

Records of Hildale Cemetery, Danville, Kentucky

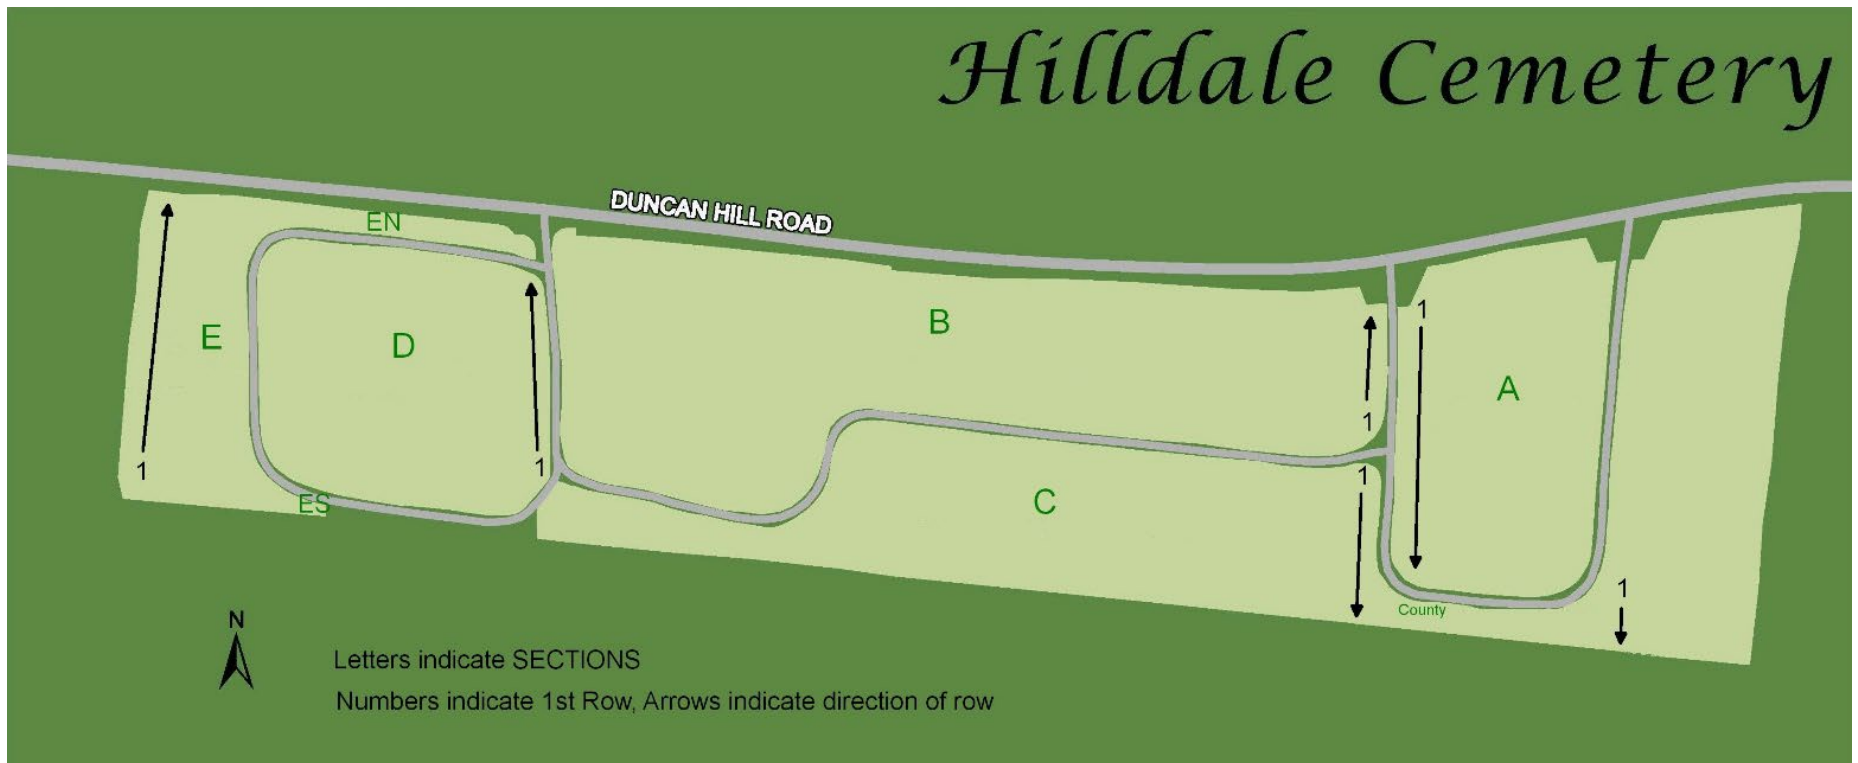

L-R: Barry Sanborn, Cindy Peck, Bill Stocker, cleaning and recording graves in Section B, March 2020

The Town of Danville purchased three acres of land on Duncan Hill Road (then outside town limits) from John and Serra Bell Cowan on 12 September 1868. The first known burial was that of Dennis Doram (Section D Row 11 Grave 2) in 1869. Some stones have older dates, but these have probably been moved here from older cemeteries.

Explanation of the spreadsheets that follow:

This file contains records of every identifiable grave in Sections A, B, C, D, E, F, and “County”. Graves are listed both alphabetically and by location. This is the FIRST TIME that Sections B, C, D, E, F, and the County (labeled “X” on the spreadsheets) have ever been mapped to our knowledge. Up to now, only Sections A and F (the new sections) had any sort of accurate records. If one’s relative were buried in Section B, C, D, E or “County” (75% of the 7.5 acre cemetery) there was no indication as to the actual location, requiring one to physically “mow” the entire cemetery in hopes of finding a grave, for which a stone may or may not be extant. Our goal was to locate, by section, row, and grave, all readable graves, as well as fieldstones and now unreadable markers.

Sections A, B, C, D, E, and County (X on the spreadsheets), Hilldale Cemetery. New Section “F” is to the east of “A”.

“1” indicates where the first row is in each section. The arrow indicates the direction of recorded graves. For example, in Section “A”, Row 1 is on the west side, and graves are recorded from north to south, moving east. In Sections “B” and “D”, Row 1 is on the east side, and graves are recorded from south to north, moving west.

In Section E, there are two areas which are located north and south of Section D. These have been designated those as EN and ES (for Section E North, and Section E South).

All burial records which list Hilldale (or other names for it, Hill-N-Dale, Duncan Hill, Highland) are included here. This includes actual mapped gravestones, records from death certificates, funeral programs, and obituaries, that state Hilldale as the burial place. For many entries, we can not find a gravestone, so these have NOT been mapped.

There are two spreadsheets – first, an alphabetical listing; and second, a listing by grave site. Not all the information on each person is found on a gravestone, but rather, has been researched from any available records as noted.

MANY listings in Hilldale at the website “Find A Grave” have little or no proof of burial there, i.e., no obituary or death certificate shows “Hilldale” or any variation. Indeed, a number of the FG entries have been proven to be buried elsewhere. Therefore, if the only reference we have to a burial in Hilldale is “Find A Grave” we have indicated the names of those people here in RED.

That does not mean that all the people listed here ARE buried here. It happens that we know of one gravestone for a woman who is actually buried at Camp Nelson with her husband, and we have noted any discrepancies we have found in the various records under the “Remarks” column.

Headings –

BY, BM, BD = Birth year, month, day.
DY, DM, DD = Death year, month, day.
IY, IM, ID = Interment Year, month, day.
Sec = Section; Gr = Grave.

This list is reasonably accurate as of 4 March 2025. As we do more research, we may well find additional people to add to this list. But we offer to the public and the City of Danville, the following:

- About 1,748 entries in City Records
- About 4,242 Obituaries
- About 4,239 Death Certificates
- About 591 Church Funeral Programs that list Hilldale
- About 3,833 Identifiable and Mapped Grave Markers (NOT including fieldstones, or other unidentifiable markers)
- About 1,574 Names that records say are buried in Hilldale, but for whom we have not found markers
- About 240 Veterans’ Graves, many from the Civil War; they are marked with a BLUE BOX.

If anyone using this file can provide further information about burials we have NOT mapped, that information would be appreciated – to mdenis46@gmail.com, so we can produce a more complete listing.
