

AFRICAN-AMERICAN FAMILIES in the
BOYLE COUNTY, KENTUCKY 1930 CENSUS

Please note – the census takers for at least two, possibly more, of these enumeration districts had such terrible handwriting, and made so many obvious errors (listing sons as female, omitting phrases like “in-law”, and having very improbable occupations for many people, these records MUST be taken with caution. This is especially true in Danville ED11, Ward 1 and Danville ED Ward 2. In addition, some streets around Russell St were counted twice by these two enumerators, with vastly different facts in some cases. This is probably a case of enumerator error, as the information given would not have been so inaccurate – one would think that a father would know whether his son was male or female, for instance. Under “year of first marriage” some of the figures are totally incorrect, so always check other records for confirmation.
