HICKMAN, Ellen-
STEPP, Thomas:

The above
named parties
were not married,
the proposed
bride having backed out and
substituted for
herself a bride of
the masculine
persuasion, who
being arrayed in
female garments
and heavily veiled
took his position
at the side of the groom, when the
two were
solemnly united in matrimony in
due and ancient
form and manner. So says
the person.

STEPP, Thomas-
HICKMAN, Ellen:
The above
named parties
were not married,
the proposed
bride having
substituted for
herself a bride of
the masculine
persuasion, who
being arrayed in
female garments
and heavily veiled
took his position
at the side of the
groom, when the
two were
solemnly united
in matrimony in
form and
the person.
