1—MARSHALL, James Lawrence, born 30 Dec 1937 (Football card right). The Notable Kentucky African-Americans Database says, "He grew up in Ohio, where he was an outstanding football player at East High School in Columbus. He played college ball at Ohio State University. Marshall left college his senior year to play in the Canadian Football League. He was later taken in the fourth round by the Cleveland Browns in the 1960 NFL draft, then traded to the Minnesota Vikings in 1961. Marshall, a defensive end, held the NFL record for playing in the most consecutive games. From 1961-1979 he never missed a game and had more playing time than any other football player in history: Marshall played in all 302 games of his career, including four Super Bowls. He is often remembered for retrieving a fumble and running 66 yards in the wrong direction, October 25, 1964, against the San Francisco 49ers. In spite of the wrong-way incident, Marshall held the record for recovering the most fumbles by opponents - 29." In 2019, Marshall's miscue was ranked No. 54 among the NFL's 100 Greatest Plays.

She was born in Lancaster (Garrard County), KY to the late James A. and Helen B. Mayfield. Lorraine was born the 7th of 10 children from this union. Lorraine married John Thomas Tarrance, Jr. February 10, 1944 in Lancaster, KY. From this union three sons (Vernelle, Guye and Jerry) were born and the family relocated to Dayton, OH in the early 1950's. Lorraine worked outside the home for a few years in food service for Talbot Towers and Monsanto before focusing on her entrepreneurial talents as a seamstress. She was very gifted in her ability to design and make custom clothing and complete clothing alterations. Her greatest joys were her grandchildren (including great and great-great), preparing meals and having family and friends over to enjoy her cooking. Lorraine was baptized as a Jehovah's Witness on January 14, 1978 and was a member of the Westwood Congregation. Her beloved John passed on November 1, 1990 and she maintained an independent lifestyle for many years (returning to Kentucky for several years and back to Dayton in 2014). At the age of 92 she became a resident at the Cypress Pointe Health Campus where she was known for her love of chocolate candy, affectionately called "Granny" and loved by all the staff. She is preceded in death by her parents: John A. and Helen B. Mayfield; husband: John T. Tarrance, Jr.; son: Jerry Tarrance; daughter-in-law: Wanda Harlan; granddaughter: Marcie

Harlan Hill; brothers: Thomas "Yates" Mayfield, James Mayfield, Robert "Pap" Mayfield, and Fred "Hambone" Mayfield; sisters: Dorothy Warren, Wade Rice, and Mabel Jernigan; special niece and nephew: Barbara Adams and Bruce Warren. In 1897, she was president of the Orphan and Industrial Home of Lexington. As a young girl, her enslaved parents were permitted to enroll her in a free "colored" school in Danville, but about 1859, after they had bought their freedom, Mary took her to Xenia, OH, to enroll her at Wilberforce, but she was too young. By about 1864, Rev John G Fee, founder of Berea College, was so impressed with her, that he convinced her parents to allow him to take her to Camp Nelson, to teach. She had a very rough time there, being the subject of intense racism from the white teachers, which Fee ended with a few well-placed complaints to authorities. After taught in many places in central Kentucky, before she enrolled in Berea in the fall of 1867. While there, she met Mr. Jordan Carlisle JACKSON, who took three years to convince her to leave Berea and to marry him, which she did on 23 Feb 1871. Her Freedmen's Bank book, issued in Louisville 1 Jan 1872, lists her siblings, Lizzie and Addie.

Niece, Mary FAULKONER, born 1879, resided here 1880C. He is probably the Isaac, born 1865, laborer on steam railroad, widower, who res Aldridge Lane, West Danville 1930C. The will of Lawson Moore, white, mentions a couple that may well be Isaac's parents: Will of Lawson Moore, Book 1, Page 215—"16th I request my old family servants, Isaac and his wife Letty, to be retained by Charles O Moore at a fair valuation." I find no marriage declaration for Isaac and Letty. An article in the Kentucky Advocate, 23 Jul 1902, p3, notes that Isaac Moore, who runs an express wagon in Danville, was the first subscriber to the right of way fund for the Southern Railway, his donation being $2.00, "immortalizing himself and Tin Can Alley, where he resides." One Isaac Moore purchased a house and lot in Danville from Susan Hudson, according to the Advocate 19 December 1902, and on 24 December, the same paper reported that William Welch entered Moore's house illegally. In May 1925, Moore showed the Advocate some old records which were the property of Lawson Moore, whose family owned Isaac's family; records from 1795, 1921 and 1826 were among the dates included.

His obituary in the Advocate-Messenger, 6 Mar 1946, p1, says:

Heart Attack Kills Negro At His Work -- Harry Moore Gets Off Ladder At Church -- A verdict of "death by heart attack" was rendered by a coroner's jury early yesterday afternoon in the case of Harry Moore, 58, Negro, who died about noon while on a painting job at Alum Springs church, it was reported by Boyle County Coroner Jimmy Randolph, Junction City. A 10-year-old son who accompanied Moore to the church grounds was on the other side of the building when his father, died. There were no witnesses, according to Coroner Randolph. He said the man apparently climbed down the ladder when he became ill and died on the ground where there were signs of a slight struggle. There were no bruises on his body to indicate a fall. Survivors include a divorced wife and five other young children. The family resides on Lebanon road. The body was taken in charge by Smith-Jackson funeral home. Members of the coroner's jury included Luther Belcher, W. T. Gorley, John Tarkington and Orville Belcher, pastor of Alum Springs Church of God, all of whom were working near by and were summoned by Randolph to serve.

MOORE, Monroe "Uncle Major", born Danville 1817 or Dec 1820, parents born VA, died Fletcher Farm, Bluffwood, Perry Twp, Marion Co, IN 23 Feb 1912, bur Danville, informant Mrs Sophia Parker, Fletcher Farm.; he declared mar 27 Jun 1874 (Boyle Marriages Book 1C p119) to Jane GIVINS, born 1831, parents born KY, having been together for 21 years. His death was reported in the Kentucky Advocate, 26 Feb 1912, p3, which also noted that he was "the last of the Lawson Moore servants", who went to live with his daughter in Indianapolis a short time before his passing. In 1920C, MD3, ED11, p9B, he was 80, widowed, boarding in Granville Love's household. The Kentucky Advocate, 26 Feb 1912, p3: Faithful Servant Dies. Monroe Moore, one of the best known colored men about here, died on the 23rd instant at the home of his daughter, Sophia Parker, in Indianapolis, Ind., in the 92nd year of his age. "Uncle Major," as he was generally known, was the last of the Lawson Moore servants, and had truly been one of the best and most faithful of his race. He had spent most of his long and useful life near Danville, having gone, within the last year, to live with his daughter, who gave him every attention and comfort, bringing his remains back to his old home for burial. The funeral occurred at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the First Colored Baptist Church, of which, he had long been a member.

- 1—RICE, Margaretta Ellen "Margo", born Boyle Co 26 May 1930 (BC), died 25 Apr 1982, mar 1950 Arthur BARNETT, q.v., res Washington, DC 1973. She was reared in Danville, and attended Bate School through grade twelve. She furthered her studies in Chicago, Illinois and Cincinnati, Ohio. In 1956, Margo moved to Washington, D.C. to study nursing at Howard University. While at Howard, she was employed in several areas of the university. Among these was the School of Social Work, where she made many friends. Later her interests carried her to employment in the Internal Revenue Service. During this era of her life, she became active in the struggle for racial equality, and a new horizon opened for her ... the theater. She worked with determined vigor through 'Back Alley Theater' and appeared in many productions there. Her one-woman show, "Black Is A Beautiful Woman", is the end product of her theatrical work. With the guidance of Doug Johnson and Sam Johnson, this turned into a full scaled production. WETA-TV (26) aired the full version of the show in 1976, and this performance won Margo an Emmy for "best individual performer" from the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. To further identify the versatility of this lady, she was an auto mechanic and a licensed real estate agent.

One-Woman Show on PBS

Actress Margo Barnett will illuminate the black experience in a many-faceted one-woman show Black is a Beautiful Woman, Tuesday, June 18, at 9 p.m. on KCTS 9.

In Black is a Beautiful Woman, which received wide acclaim when it was first presented in Washington, D.D., Miss Barnett dramatizes the poetry and prose of several well-known black writers, giving her audience a sometimes sad, sometimes humorous insight into the black men and women of America.

Miss Barnett devotes a segment of the program to her own adaptation of Richard Wright's Between the World and Me. In this scene she comes upon the remains of a lynching in the forest, and portraying herself as the victim, re-enacts the death scene.

Washington, D.C.'s Margo Barnett has had very little formal training. She had her real start back in her family's living room in Danville, Kentucky, on Saturday nights, reciting poetry. "It was a family ritual," she says. "My father, whom I adored, made the three children memorize a poem during the week. He would correct our style and say, 'Can the person in the last row hear you?' "

With an eye on a musical career, she attended the Cosmopolitan School of Music, the black annex to the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, and spent a year at West Virginia State College. She also studied with Roberta Flack in Washington, D.C.

Frank Getlein, critic at large for the Washington Star-News, says of Margo, "She is a superb reader. In her Black is a Beautiful Woman, she has so ordered the material that it becomes a kind of history of the rise of black consciousness, both among black Americans as a people and within a hypothetical individual black person."

(George Milton "Pap" Richardson)

G. M. "Pap" Richardson, who celebrated his 87th birthday on December 28, operator of the City Barber Shop next to Trinity Episcopal Church on Main street, died at 9 o'clock this morning at his resident, 200 East Walnut street, after an illness of only two weeks.

Richardson was born in Irvine, Estill county, December 28, 1858. He received little education but was known as a "self-educated man" who could fluently discuss affairs of the day and events of both World Wars. After operating the barber shop at Estill Spring, once a famous health resort, for anumber of years, Richardson came to Danville 39 years ago.

He worked for the late John Tibbs, who ran a barber shop at the present location of the City Barber Shop, and later was employed by Pres Shirley on North Third Street for six years. Purchasing the Gilcher hotel barber shop from William Duncan, Richardson ran it until the fire of March 1914 when it was destroyed. He next bought the Tibbs shop on Main Street which he has operated ever since.

Claiming to be an old-fashioned barber, Richardson boasted of his individual art of "the whittle stroken". Considered an expert in his line, he retired from active work several years ago, after having shaved many famous men.

They apparently lived near Harrodsburg Road, as several white families on the same page in the census lived there, and the Ripperdan plantation was just to the west. She may have been enslaved by James MEAUX.

Boyle County Wills, Book 1, p90: I, Frederick Ripperdan of the county of Boyle and state of Kentucky do make and ordain this my last will and testament.

Second. It is my will and desire that my slaves (to wit) Tom, Henry, Jim, Washington, Susan and her child with her future increase be, and they are hereby set free and are to be emancipated immediately after my decease.

Third: My will and desire is that such of the above named boys who are mine at my death are without a trade shall be bound out by my Executor to learn such trade as he may think best at the expiration of which time they are to be set free forever.

Seventh: I hereby state, in order to stop any difficulty, which might arise after my death in relation to the ages of Washington and Jim, they being named and disposed of in the second clause of this will, that they are of the following ages (to wit). Washington about the age of 14 years, and Jim about the age of 16 years.

Eighth: My will and desire is that all the clothes, which I may have at the time of my death, shall be equally divided among my slaves named in 2nd clause.

Funeral services for Blanche Rogers were conducted Sunday afternoon [16 Feb] in the funeral home of Ashby Jackson on East Walnut Street.

"Aunt Blanche," as she was best known, was born in 1844. She was raised in the Candwell family, who resided on the Shakertown road, about three miles north of Danville.

Her faithfulness, unquestioned honesty, and devotion to her employer was proved by her home of long standing.

For 40 years she faithfully served in Miss Alice Johnstone's home and for 15 years in the home of Mr. John B Nichols.

Her white friends paid her their last tribute of respect by attending the funeral. She is survived by son, Billy Wade.

The History of the American Negro in the Great World War, by W Allison Sweeney, 1919, mentions as one of the officers in African-American regiments, one John W Rowe, First Lieutenant, from Danville. His draft record shows he resided 129 Rowe, born 19 Jan 1893, mo 1, day 19, Danville. He was a student, employed by Howard University, Washington, DC. He is described as, no dependents, single, signed form, height tall, build slender, eyes Br, hair Blk, registered 5 Jun 1917 (WW1 Draft Reg). He was the second son of John C and Elizabeth B (Frye) Rowe, who lived at 129 Rowe Place in 1910. His World War II draft registration shows him living at Douglas Park, or 180 Deweese St, Lexington, where he was self-employed, living with Mrs. H. H. Rowe. He is described as 6'1", 212 pounds, brown eyes, mixed gray hair, and light brown complexion. In the 1920 Census, he is shown living at 1518-S Street NW, Washington, DC, where he boarded apparently while attending Howard University.

In 1926, the Louisville Courier-Journal mentions him assisting at a trial in Lexington (C-J, 6 Apr 1926, p4)

African-American Genealogies of Boyle County, Kentucky, P 926

In 1930, he was living at 126 East Short St in Lexington, a lawyer, married to Hattie H (_____) ROWE, to whom he had been married 5 years.

The Notable Kentucky African-Americans website (http://nkaa.uky.edu/record.php?note_id=2586) states that in 1938, he was the only black lawyer in Lexington, and Hattie was the director of Douglas Park, with offices at 180 Deweese St; they resided 860 Georgetown St.

The Lexington Chapter of the National Bar Association was named for him.

His obituary in the Advocate-Messenger, 26 Mar 1978, p20, states:

Services for John W. Rowe, 85, of 136 E. Fourth St, Lexington, a Danville native and retired Lexington attorney, will be Monday at 11 a.m. at the First Baptist Church in Lexington with burial in Camp Nelson Cemetery. Friends may call at the church Sunday from 5 to 9 p.m. The son of the late John and Eliza Rowe, Mr. Rowe was born and reared in Danville and attended Bate School here. His family formerly lived on the street that now has the Rowe name and he has a number of nieces, nephews, cousins and friends in Danville. The late Martha Pearl Patton was a sister, and Landis Rowe was a cousin.

Mr. Rowe, who for many years was Lexington's only black attorney, died Friday. An active Republican, he had never run for public office.

Mr. Rowe was co-counsel in the Johnson case in 1949 which eventually led to the integration of the University of Kentucky, according to Theodore Berry, a Lexington attorney. "He was a highly respected attorney among his people and among all people," said fellow Republican and former Fayette County Judge Dan E. Fowler. After he left Danville, Mr. Rowe received his bachelor's and law degrees from Howard University, Washington, D.C., and was admitted to the Kentucky Bar Association in 1922.

Hattie's obituary in the Lexington Herald Leader, Sunday, 17 Oct 1976, states:

Mrs Hattie Moss Helm Rowe, 538 Breckinridge St, died Saturday afternoon at the NHE Nursing Home after a lingering illness. She was a member of the First Baptist Church. She served as executive director of the Colored Parks and Playgrounds of Lexington for many years. She is survived by her husband, Attorney John W Rowe; and other relatives. The body is at the Smith & Smith Funeral Home. The family may be reached at 448 Ohio St, ph. 254-5873.

The Kentucky Advocate had two stories on him in October 1890; on 8 Oct, he was tried in Recorder's court, his crime not being named, but the jury was unable to reach a verdict; a week later, on 15 Oct, the jury was again unable to reach a verdict – this being the third time he was tried, the crime still unspecified. The article noted however, that "He is a very respectable young fellow and is learning the barber's trade at the Gilcher House shop." An article, 23 June 1922 in the Messenger, p1, noted his passing of tuberculosis. "When only nine years old he started to work in Sherley's barber shop on Third street and remained in the barber business until last January. For the first few years of his life he had the first chair at the City Barber Shop."

An article in the Advocate, 1 Feb 1905, p3 noted: Sam Shelby, the local barber, was summoned to Ft. Wayne, Ind., Sunday by a telegram announcing the serious condition of his brother, Boyle Shelby, who was perhaps fatally hurt in an elevator shaft several days ago. The boy left Danville about two years ago to accept a position in Detroit, but later secured a position as porter of a Pullman sleeper between Chicago and St. Louis. He has been working at a hotel in Ft. Wayne since leaving the railroad. A few days ago he went to a store near the hotel to get some sample cases that belonged to a guest. When he reached the elevator, the regular boy was not at his post of duty, so Shelby had an idea he could run the machinery himself. Instead of going down, as he wished, the elevator went up, catching his foot in some manner and carrying him to the third floor, where the elevator came to a sudden stop and he was thrown out of the cage to the basement. He was picked up in a semi-conscious condition and removed to his home. Shelby will be remembered as a porter and bootblack in the local barber shops, and is the son of Harrison Shelby.

He ran for city council in 1979 (defeated), 1981 (defeated) and 1989 (won with more votes than any other candidate). He served in that position until his death in 1998. In other activities, he coached minor league baseball for 27 years, and was awarded the Holman Cotton Leadership Award for his service. He attended the Perryville

Colored School, which had 8 grades all taught by his cousin, Amelia (Sleet) Burton. Later attending Bate School in Danville, he often hitch-hiked, or rode into Danville with his parents, often staying with friends in town. He noted that Margaret Andrews, music, and Gertrude Sledd, math, were his favorite high school teachers. Graduating from Bate in 1944, he spent nearly four years in the army, mostly at Darnall Hospital. At a gathering of area congregations in Perryville, he met Ann Ross, whom he married.

A-M, 16-17 June 2018 – From Our Files, 100 Years Ago: Clay Southern, who lives on Persimmon Knob, was badly burned last Saturday night. It is al-legend that he and Richard Tolliver were engaged in a crap game and were using a bottle filled with coal oil in which a wick was used to furnish light. It is claimed that Southern and Tolliver became involved in a difficulty and Tolliver grabbed the improvised lamp and struck Southerland on the head and the burning fluid set his clothing on fire. Dr. Pittman of Perryville said the burns were very serious, but he thought he would recover. His head, shoulder and arm were badly burned and the flesh would slough from his wrist.

- 3—STEWART, Anne Ocelia, born Stanford 23 Jun 1948, died 3 May 2013, mar _____ BUTLER, res Manhattan, KS 1987, Frankfort 2011. Her obituary through Clark Legacy Center in Frankfort, reads:

Anne Ocelia (Stewart) Butler was born June 23, 1948 in Stanford, Kentucky (Lincoln County), as the 4th of 5 children born to Lucian J. Stewart and Mary Catherine (Greene) Stewart. Although of humble childhood beginnings and adversity, Anne was destined to achieve and to contribute greatly and uniquely to the world around her: her state of Kentucky birthplace, her family and with all whom she came into contact.

During her childhood, Anne excelled academically and displayed a startling bright educational promise. All who met her attest to the fact that she was one of the most relatable and intelligent persons they had ever had the pleasure of meeting.

Throughout her life "Dr. Butler," (lovingly referred to as "Dr. B.") realized her destiny. The places and the people she served and the sea of people she came into contact with, were all richly affected and bear the indelible mark of her influence and of the seeds of knowledge and compassion she planted as a result of her deeply held spiritual beliefs. Anne loved culture, food, sports, politics, movies (old westerns were her favorite) and mythology. This love and curiosity was reflected in her unique talent of discovering and uncovering local, around-town, out-of-the-way diners, dives and shops.

In 1970, she earned her B.A. in Sociology from Eastern Kentucky University; and in 1979 she received her M.S. in College Student, Adult and Community Counseling from the Kansas State University College of education. She continued her education at Kansas State University and in 1990 received her Ph.D. in Curriculum and Policy Studies, with an emphasis on race, gender and multicultural studies. Throughout her professional career Anne was a strong proponent of children's education and community strength. She was truly a champion in this cause. In 1970 she began her professional career as the Director of the Frederick Douglas Community Center in Manhattan, Kansas until 1972. After which she Coordinated and Taught for Head Start Education program for the next 5 years. In 1977 until 1996 her progressive career with Kansas State University began. From 1979-1992 she was the Counselor and Outreach Coordinator for the Office of Minority Affairs. She then progressed to becoming the Director for Educational Supportive Services (a federally-funded TRIO Program), Advisor to the Ebony Theatre Company and Faculty Advisor for Field Based Community Service Student research Teams. From 1992 to 1996, Dr. Butler served in dual academic and administrative capacities as Director and Assistant Professor, Women's Studies Program for the College of Arts and Sciences and as Assistant Professor for the Graduate Program in Counseling and Educational Psychology.

From 1996-1997, Anne took an 18-month leave of absence from these responsibilities to assume a position and duties as the Director of the Women's Educational Equity Research project. During this federally funded appointment, Anne's distinguished research and scholarship contribution included her work with her publication: Black Girls and Schooling: A Directory of Strategies to Improve the Academic Performance and Persistence Rate of Black Females K-12, and continued with nine more scholarly works reflecting her resourcefulness, curiosity and passion of unearthing and chronicling little or unknown African American contributions and history. Anne truly appreciated the value of the arts and continued her role as advisor to the Kansas State managed theater group, but rather than planning and organizing the events, with a keen artistic sense she curated the events. She concluded her professional career at Kansas State University in May of 1996.

Sensing a strong pull back to her birthplace, Dr. Butler's career and ardent passion for history, scholarship, community and family directed her towards Kentucky. Her return home provided her the precious opportunity to care and spend the time needed with her mother prior to her mother's death in January of 1997.

Anne took to this next phase of her life beginning the pinnacle of her career from 1996 to 2006 as Kentucky State University's founding Director for the Center of Excellence for the Study of Kentucky African Americans. Beloved Dr. B. delved into groundbreaking research into the history and contribution of African Americans in the state of Kentucky with a deep fervor. Her research would have her literally and figuratively "breaking ground" excavating historical war sites; garnering several millions in grant funding for the University; producing and participating in published and unpublished research into the African American contribution to Kentucky's rich thoroughbred horse industry. Anne also participated in projects on great black jockeys, Kentucky churches, collegiate sorority and fraternity organizations, Kentucky families, including descendants of renowned civil rights leader, Dr. Benjamin L. Hooks, slave owners, slaves, free women and men, family genealogical searches, and the African Cemetery No. 2. While these areas and specifically named projects encompass Anne's expertise, the numerous projects under these banner projects are endless.

A frequently sought after guest lecturer/researcher by the community at large, Dr. Butler was also sought after by the media to participate in national and local documentaries for television, including, ESPN and Kentucky Educational Television (KET). For KET, Dr. Butler served as consultant on the Underground Railroad in Kentucky. Dr. Butler made critical contributions to the research on Margaret Garner, the Kentucky slave woman, who was the central character of the story Beloved, by author Toni Morrison.

From 2006 until her untimely death, Dr. Butler served the Kentucky State University and the Region as the Director of the Office of Regional Stewardship and Public Engagement and was an Associate Professor with the Whitney Young School of Honors and Liberal Studies and a distinguished member of the President's Senior Leadership Council, and the Council of Deans, Chairs and Directors.

With its goals to strengthen connections between regional universities and their area of geographic responsibility, Anne was particularly excited about leading the Regional Stewardship initiative at Kentucky State. Based on her past professional experience she welcomed the opportunity to review and adopt policies aimed at increasing outreach and engagement with PK-12 schools, incorporating greater numbers of service-learning opportunities by faculty and students, and holding conversations with community leaders regarding local issues to make more efficient use of intellectual and social capital. She developed a program with funding from the Kentucky Council on Post-Secondary Education focusing on the following thematic areas: Innovative Economy-preparing people and places to succeed, Education and engaged learning-developing partnerships with regional school districts to assist in preparing students at the precollege level; Livable communities-enhancing quality of life in a variety of initiatives; and Social inclusion-holding difficult conversations and assisting communities in their efforts to address issues of diversity.

Following the success of the Regional Stewardship program, Anne received a $500,000 grant which became a part of the Kentucky State University base budget. Recently Anne was commissioned by the President of the University to purchase of a Historical Building in downtown Frankfort, KY along the Kentucky River. The building will house the "Kentucky River Ecology Interactive Display," an interactive display designed largely as a resource for pre-K-12 students and as a public education resource. An interactive floating science barge, on the Kentucky River, will serve as a resource for students at all levels of the educational pipeline. The building will also house class-rooms equipped with cutting-edge technology, and the University's museum and archival collections. All of which is a direct result of Anne's tireless work.

Anne leaves behind three children she loved deeply, son Marvin age 41, Olathe KS, daughter Jacqui, age 34, Lithonia, GA, and adopted daughter, Bemnet Fantu-Downes of NC, three grandchildren, Adonis, Remi and Brody, a sister Lucille (Yvonne) Campbell currently of LaGrange GA, 5 nephews and 5 nieces, and a "village" of loved ones, friends, and colleagues.

While Anne's reach was great, she maintained a humbleness of true servant hood without losing her sense of artistic humor.
